STANDARDS FOR EDUCATIONAL AND PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS AND MANUALS

This valuable publication has been approved by the governing bodies of the American Psychological Association (APA), the American Educational Research Association (AERA), and the National Council on Measurement in Education (NCME).

These recommended standards cover not only tests as narrowly defined, but also most published devices for diagnosis, prognosis, and evaluation. The standards apply to interest inventories, personality inventories, projective instruments and related clinical techniques, tests of aptitude or ability, and achievement tests—especially those used in an educational setting.
